

USSN 10/058,566

Response to communication dated December 22, 2004

Please cancel the prior abstract and substitute the following:

ABSTRACT

Promoter sequences and their essential regions are identified which provide for male tissue-preferred expression. The nucleotide sequences are useful in mediating male fertility in plants.